

Quit Tobacco: How providers can assist in tobacco screening and interventions

What is the tobacco cessation measure?

The measure evaluates how many members were screened for tobacco use at least once during the measurement period, and for members who use tobacco, how many received a cessation intervention, such as brief counseling or support.

How can providers influence tobacco cessation care?

- Leverage follow-ups, maternity programs, and primary care visits to complete screenings!
- Complete accurate billing and coding backed by tobacco cessation technical specifications.
- Document tobacco preventive visits and in-office screenings.
- Refer members to AmeriHealth Caritas Ohio counseling services and/or the quit line, 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669).
